

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Developing leaders is a top priority across industries. Educational programs focused on leadership development have been shown to increase a host of skills critical for effective leadership, including: self knowledge, conflict management, communication, coalition building, financial management, and ability to lead.

US Companies Spend 14,000,000,000 ANNUALLY on Leadership Development

Out of 1200 Leaders attending leadership programs

Top tier leaders who attended leadership development programs increased leadership competencies by

26%

Bottom tier leaders who attended leadership development programs increased leadership competencies by

30%

76%

of leadership development program participants assumed a new leadership role within three years

43% of CEOs & 71% of Execs

have worked with a Leadership Development Coach

92% would work with one again

